Thought for the week...

You will do as you practice

There is a quote by author Jeremy Schwartz which goes "Live every day as if it were your last, because one of these days, it will be" which I like for a number of reasons. The main one being that if you had a good ethical and spiritual foundation, you would be the best that you could every day, in every way.

Most of us don't bother to do that, because we foolishly believe that we will really behave differently when it counts. Even though we don't bother during our normal day-to-day activity, we will rise to the occasion when it is important. The reality is that what we practice every day is what you will do even when it really counts.

Practice being the best you can be every day, in every way - because every day is your training for the real situation, when being your best will be essential. Imagine the difference that would make!

STOP THE TRAFFIK—GIFT BOX PROJECT

The GIFT BOX is a public art and community project by STOP THE TRAFFIK and the United Nations which is working to raise awareness of child trafficking. They are anticipating a rise this summer, very sadly, of a demand for prostitutes during the Olympics and further risks of children being brought into the capital for such purposes. If anyone is interested in being part of this project, by volunteering at a GIFT box between 27th July—12th Aug, there will be a volunteer information evening in London on Wed, 1st February from 6.30pm-8pm.
